Parent Partnership Evening: Developing Character: "Stickability"
Wednesday 19th October from 7:00pm to 8:00pm.

As parents of year 7, we are inviting you to attend a session run by the Headteacher, Mr Gary Lewis, regarding the school's focus on character. For those parents who have older children in the school, you will be aware that we started a series of "parent training evenings" last year, which have received great feedback and have been seen as having real value by parents who attended. Consequently, we are repeating and expanding the programme this year. The focus of this session will be stickability – what it looks like at school and how, as parents, you can support us with developing this aspect in your own children.

We will use the evening to open up discussions on how as parents you can help your children develop a real determination to "never give up". We found that parents benefit enormously from the focused discussions and debates which ensue following a brief presentation in the hall. We will be able to examine practical examples both at home and at school which should help us to prepare our young people for the many and varied challenges ahead.

I would ask that you complete the attached slip and return it directly to the school office in order to confirm your attendance. It is anticipated that that the evening will last approximately 1 hour and parents should note that we will not be serving refreshments.

Kind regards

Gary Lewis

Headteacher
