How SEND Provision Works at Kings Langley School

The Learning Support Department is led by the SENCo, Sarah Johnson-Putt. Kings Langley School have divided the department into three sub centres, combining the communication and sensory areas of need. Whilst the department is one cohesive area, the three centres each have their own leads who work closely together as most students with SEND will have a primary need but, as the graphic shows, these needs may overlap into another area.

The Centre Leads

Communication Centre Lead - Mrs A Sharp who is also the SENCo.

Deputy Senco - Miss L Reeve

Each of these can be contacted via Beverley Barnes, SEN Administrator, on lsdp@kls.herts.sch.uk

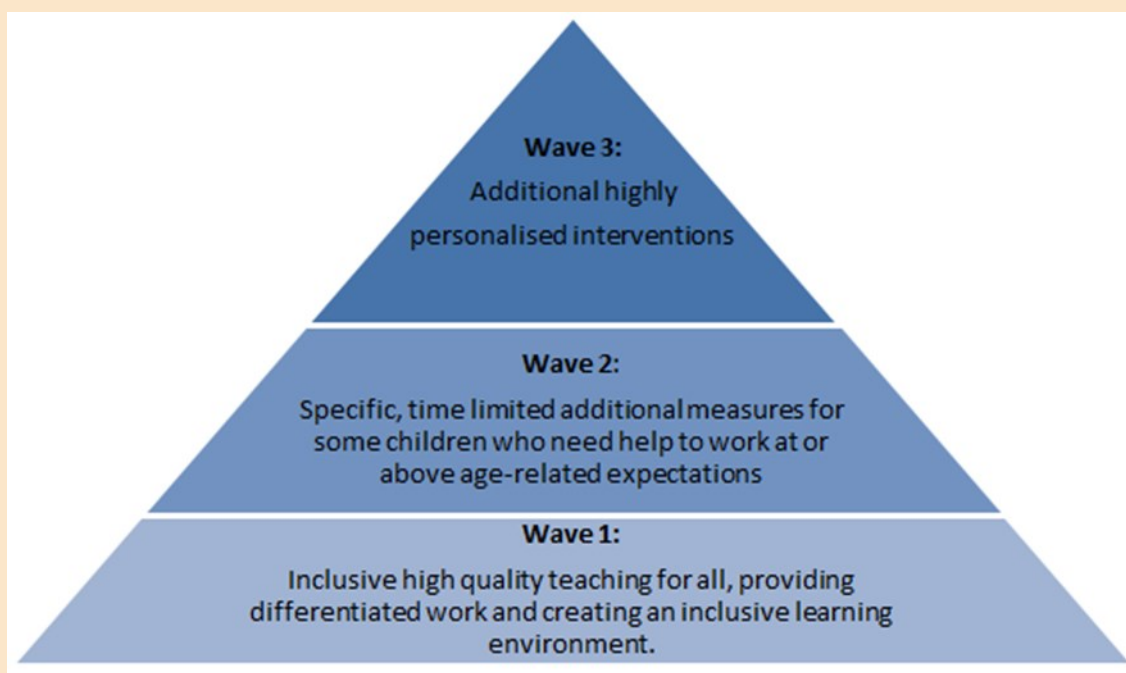

Kings Langley School Waves of Provision

The triangle diagram demonstrates the waves of provision at Kings Langley School. (Further specific details are in the table below)

Wave 1: All Students - quality first teaching with differentiation, scaffolding and challenge in an inclusive learning environment

Wave 2: Targeted Groups - small group interventions to support specific needs within the curriculum

Wave 3: Individual Students - targeted, personalised interventions and support.

What does Inclusive Quality First Teaching Look Like?

- High achievement for all through high expectations and high aspirations where the learning needs of all students are considered.
- Lessons are well planned, focused and differentiated appropriately with clear success criteria.
- A planned range of teaching skills, strategies and approaches are deployed to engage all children.
- Practitioners provide clear explanations of teaching points and use appropriate questioning to develop understanding and to set challenges.
- Students are fully engaged in their learning, having opportunities to work both independently and collaboratively.
- Positive praise and effective feedback promotes further learning
