Equalities Scheme

"When everyone is included, everyone wins"
Jesse Jackson

1 Visions and Values

As a school of character, Kings Langley School aims to create and promote an inclusive climate, which enables equal opportunity for all students, staff, parents/carers and Governors to flourish, as well as supporting our desired outcome of developing strong character and the ability for students to make fair, safe and reasoned choices.

At Kings Langley School we work hard to eliminate direct and indirect discrimination, harassment and victimisation; advance equality of opportunity; and foster good relations between all those within our school community. We do this regarding the nine protected characteristics listed in the Equality Act 2010. These characteristics are:

- age
- disability
- gender reassignment
- marriage and civil partnership
- pregnancy and maternity
- race
- religion or belief
- sex
- sexual orientation

A glossary which defines these terms and additional terms related to equality, diversity and inclusion can be found in Appendix 1

2 Policy Statement

Our duties under the Equality Act also reflect international human rights standards as expressed in the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, the UN Convention on the Rights of People with Disabilities and the Human Rights Act 1998.

The Education and Inspections Act 2006 requires us to promote community cohesion and at Kings Langley School we work towards a society in which there is a common vision and sense of belonging by all communities; a society in which the diversity of people's backgrounds and circumstances is appreciated and valued; a society in which similar life opportunities are available to all; and a society in which strong and positive relationships exist.

Our commitment to equality, diversity and inclusion is reflected in our school policies and procedures, especially those related to (but not limited to):

- accessibility
- behaviour
- anti-bullying
- uniform
- recruitment
- Relationships and Sex Education
- Special Educational Needs
- home-school agreement

3 School Context

Kings Langley School is a co-educational school based in a predominately white area on the edge of Kings Langley village, however over 24% travel to school by bus from a wider geographical area. The school's population is 1087 students. (Census data Autumn 2024) 23.3% students are from ethnic minorities (National figure 6.3%). 6.2% of students at this school are recorded as having English as an addition language (EAL), whereas 20.8% of pupils in England were recorded as having English as an additional language (EAL). Although our cohort is becoming more diverse, the recording of students with EAL is low, 6.2%.

4 Fulfilling our public sector equality duty

How we eliminate discrimination, harassment and victimisation:

Kings Langley School does not tolerate direct or indirect discrimination, harassment or victimisation of anyone within our school community, and we are opposed to all forms of prejudice.

- The school has robust procedures for dealing with prejudice-related incidents and all staff receive training on these. All incidents are recorded, and this data is shared with the governing body and analysed so that any trends can be identified, and action plans put in place. Further information on these procedures can be found the staff handbook and they are also referenced in the action on bullying policy and the behaviour management policy.
- The behaviour management policy outlines the procedures for reporting and responding to incidents of discrimination, harassment and victimisation experienced by students and staff
- The Complaints Policy outlines the procedures for reporting and responding to incidents of discrimination, harassment and victimisation experienced by parents and carers and the wider school community.

How we advance equality of opportunity between persons who share a relevant protected characteristic and persons who do not share it:

Treating people equally does not mean treating them all the same. We recognise that people have different needs, different experiences, and different outlooks and face different barriers to achieving positive outcomes.

- We collect and monitor data broken down by different protected characteristics in order to identify inequalities and disparities within our student population in terms of:
 - Progress and attainment
 - Admissions
 - Attendance
 - Rewards, sanctions and exclusions and within our staff population in terms of:
 - Recruitment, retention, training and promotion
 - Capability, disciplinary and complaints

We employ appropriate interventions where necessary in order to address disparities. Please see our Equalities Objectives and Action Plan for further details.

- We consult widely with a range of groups and individuals to ensure that those who are affected by a policy or activity are consulted in the design of new policies, and in the review of existing ones.
- We assess all of our policies and procedures to ensure that no individuals or groups are disadvantaged and to identify opportunities for positive action.
- We make reasonable adjustments to ensure that the school environment and its activities are as accessible and as welcoming as possible to all, in some cases treating disabled people more favourably than non-disabled people where necessary. Please see our Accessibility Plan for further information.
- We ensure that students' work is scaffolded appropriately, and that the curriculum is accessible to all students.
- We respect the religious beliefs and practice of staff and students and comply with reasonable requests relating to religious observance and practice.
- We take all reasonable steps to ensure the wellbeing and inclusion of transgender staff and students, including those who transition during their time at the school. Further information can be found in the transgender policy.

Using Texts which Contain Problematic Language:

In subjects such as English, Drama, and History teachers may wish to use primary sources and texts that include problematic language. These resources are often important teaching tools. However, it is vital that they are used with sensitivity and care, that all pupils feel safe in the discussions and that the meanings, origins and impact and unacceptability of the language is explored.

At Kings Langley School we will;

- Choose passages carefully: Careful thought should be given to the passages, their appropriateness for any given year group.
- Forewarning: Before showing or starting the text, we will forewarn the class that it will include problematic language; explain why we are looking at the text – why it is relevant, what can be learned from it; the teacher will set clear rules about responding to and using the language
- Silence: Although the word might appear on the page, it does not have to be read aloud: it can be glossed over with a verbal silence; the teacher should lead the reading rather than getting students to read problematic passages. The following words should not be read aloud;
 - N - a derogatory word for black people
 - P - a derogatory word for South Asian people
 - P* - a derogatory term for the Traveller community
 - C - a vulgar word for the vulva or vagina.

We will continue to review hateful language.

- Not displaying the word: Rather than having the word printed in full, it should appear as a letter followed by asterisks making it visually clear that it is not appropriate to verbalise (subject to publishing copywrite laws).

How we foster good relations between persons who share a relevant protected characteristic and persons who do not share it:

- We ensure that our curriculum offers opportunities to learn about people with a diverse range of identities.
- We teach our students to recognise and challenge stereotypes and prejudice and to value difference.
- We ensure that our resources challenge stereotypes and reflect the diversity of society.
- We take positive action to ensure that people with a range of different identities engage with our school community for example guest speakers, arts groups, school governors, parent/carers helpers etc.
- Our behaviour policy includes a requirement to respect other people and their different identities.
- We take steps to ensure diversity in our student council, governing body and staff team
- We celebrate diversity and hold assemblies and events celebrating diversity throughout the year.

6 Equality Objectives and Action Plan

To fulfil its Public Sector Equality Duty, the school collects equality information on pupils and staff. Using this information, the school analyses the following in terms of protected characteristics:

- Student admissions
- Student attendance
- Student performance/achievement
- Student sanctions
- Student rewards
- Staff recruitment, retention and promotion
- Staff disciplinary and capability proceedings
- Records of prejudice-related incidents
- Complaints by parents and carers

The school also conducts surveys with staff, pupils and parents and carers to identify areas that they feel the school is doing well and areas for improvement.

This information is used to identify any discrepancies between people from different groups and to identify equality objectives. The school publishes this information on the school website and updates it annually.

The school identifies any equality training needs within our staff by completing a staff questionnaire and analysing data from incident reports. These needs will be addressed, and this may also inform our Equality Objectives.

Our equality objectives may also take into account national and local priorities and issues as appropriate. They are devised in consultation with school governors and are integrated into the school improvement plan. We keep the objectives under review and report annually on our progress towards achieving them.

Equality Impact Assessments

All school policies are assessed for their impact on different groups of people with shared protected characteristics. This ensures that our policies, practices and decision-making processes are fair and do not discriminate against any particular groups. It also enables us to consider ways to proactively advance equality.

A template for conducting equality impact assessments is attached as Appendix 2

Breaches of this policy

Breaches of this policy will be dealt with in the same way that breaches of other school policies are dealt with, as determined by the Headteacher and governing body.

Ratified by the governing body Accepted on Due for review on November 2026
