This is an excellent opportunity for an ambitious leader and practitioner, who wants to have a real impact on student attainment, progress, and providing young people fantastic teaching and learning experiences .

We are looking for a motivated and talented leader, able to complement the energy, dynamism and originality of thought already present in our Humanities Learning Area. You will have the drive, inspiration and vision to lead both students and teachers in raising standards further to unlock their potential.

Why choose our school:

- Influence practice and sharing ideas with like minded professionals.
- An established and well-resourced learning area.
- We offer excellent opportunities for high quality professional development and support.
- We have a strong commitment to staff wellbeing with a genuinely friendly body of staff who support and care for each other.

What we are looking for:

- An innovative teacher who embraces and develops new ideas, and then pursues them to completion.
- You should have a strong record of working collaboratively within a department and you are able to respond nimbly to challenges which arise.
- You uphold high expectations of students daily and model this to colleagues in the department.
- You can skilfully develop effective student-teacher relationships.
- You have a keen interest in the latest research and theory around the subject area.
- You have a proven track record of achieving strong student progress and have high expectations of your classes.
- You are a positive team player with a strong commitment to making Kings Langley School the best place to work for all staff.
